FOR COLLECTOR.

For Collector of the Revenue of Pemiscot county Judge T. R. Cole authorizes The Missouri Herald to announce his candidacy, subject to the wish of the Republican voters in the August primary.

Judge Cole is at present Associate Judge of the County Court, representing District No. 1, the same being the north half of the county. He was elected to this office two years ago and through this means he has become acquainted with most of the people of the county.

His home is at Pascola, where he is largely interested in farming. He came from Illinois, and since he has been residing here he has helped develop some 1500 acres of land for himself and others. He is a director of the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau, also director of the Pemiscot County Farm Bureau. He is progressive and takes a leading part in everything calculated to benefit his neighbors and the community in general. He has been president of the Pascola school board several years, and due to his work there the schools have been considerably improved.

However, perhaps the most important public service Judge Cole has rendered since coming here is in the building of the Kennett, Hayti and Caruthersville highway, and for this he is due much credit. He was one of the road commissioners and only praise and commendation is due him for his service in this respect.

While the man who writes this has no personal acquaintance with Judge Cole, we can say, from information we have of him that he is a man of many admirable qualities. One thing in particular we admire in him is the fact that he is broad-minded enough not to regard criticism of official acts as personal. In this he shows that he considers the office belongs to the people, not the official. While this paper has criticized some of Judge Cole's official acts, he realizes that to be our duty. Another thing to be admired about Judge Cole—he is open in what he does. He does not try to hide or cover up his tracks. While we differ with Judge Cole politically and otherwise, we want him to have full credit for what he does, and he has considerable to his credit on that score. Possibly he has done some things that, if he had to do over, he would not do again. But those of us who do not make mistakes are out in the cemetery.

Judge Cole is competent to fill the office for which he is asking, and if nominated and elected he promises to render the most efficient service he is capable of giving.

FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY.

Noah C. Hawkins authorizes The Missouri Herald to place his name before our readers as a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney, subject to the choice of the Democratic primary August 1, next.

Mr. Hawkins is 45 years old just in the prime of life. He was born in Kentucky, but lived mostly in Tennessee before coming to Missouri. He came to Caruthersville in the winter of 1916, and has since resided there and practiced law.

Mr. Hawkins is a graduate of Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., including the law department.

Mr. Hawkins is at present practicing law in partnership with C. G. Shepard and has built up a large clientele. He is an able and energetic lawyer, and with his long experience and determination is fully competent to make Pemiscot county a first-class Prosecuting Attorney.

He has a clean record. He is honest, fair, and above all, persistent and determined.

Mr. Hawkins is not the sort of man to blow and boast about what he has done and is going to do, but prefers to be judged by his deeds. So those who are not acquainted with him should investigate his high standing and worth before casting their vote.

IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

John I. Stephens and family, with the exception of John I. Jr., were in a serious auto accident one day last week while driving in their home town, Tulsa, Okla. Their car was about twenty feet in the rear of a large furniture van or truck, when a large, seven-passenger Packard, driven by an intoxicated Indian, ran into the truck, knocking it upon the Stephens car and completely demolishing same. Helen, the daughter, who was driving suffered serious injuries, several ribs being nearly broken, and bruised otherwise. Mr. and Mrs. Stephens and Elmer, Jr., were severely bruised and the latter received severe cuts about the face. The car was completely torn up, and it is miraculous that the family escaped with their lives.

John I. Stephens is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stephens of this city, and has been living in Oklahoma for several years.
